("Roquefort Investments" or the "Company")

Proposed Acquisition of Lynamid Pty Limited
Proposed Placing of up to 30,000,000 Ordinary Shares of £0.01 each at £0.10 per Ordinary Share
Proposed Change of Name

Roquefort Investments plc (LSE:ROQ), the investment company established to acquire businesses focused on early-stage opportunities in the medical biotechnology sector, is pleased to announce that further to the announcement of 29 September 2021, the Company has now entered into a conditional share sale and purchase agreement (the "Acquisition Agreement") with Provelmare Holding S.A. (the "Seller") pursuant to which Roquefort Investments has agreed to acquire the entire issued share capital of Lynamid Pty Limited ("Lynamid") for an initial consideration of £1 million payable 50% in cash and 50% in shares (the "Acquisition").

Lynamid has the exclusive worldwide licence to commercialise up to 37 patents related to Midkine-based therapies for the treatment of COVID-19 patients, cancer, autoimmune disorders and chronic inflammation ("Midkine-Based Therapies").

The Directors of Roquefort Investments consider the Acquisition to represent a transformational, value enhancing transaction for shareholders, which is fully aligned with the Company's growth strategy. Lynamid's global patent portfolio for Midkine-Based Therapies provides a platform to develop first-in-class drugs for the treatment of severe inflammatory diseases, autoimmune disorders and cancer. The therapeutic potential of Midkine-Based Therapies has been validated during more than 10 years of research including collaborations with leading academic centres and clinicians resulting in over 900 scientific publications.

Roquefort Investments also proposes to carry out a Placing of new Ordinary Shares to raise funds of up to £3 million (before expenses) to finance the cash component of the consideration for the Acquisition, pre-clinical drug development and working capital. As such, the Acquisition is conditional, inter alia, on a successful Placing.

The Company will shortly be circulating a notice of general meeting to shareholders to seek shareholder approval inter alia for the issue of new Ordinary Shares in connection with the Acquisition and the Placing and to change the name of the Company to Roquefort Therapeutics plc.

Should the Acquisition complete, it will constitute a Reverse Takeover under the Listing Rules and accordingly the Company will apply for the re-admission of its shares to the Official List and the Main Market of the London Stock Exchange. The Company's shares remain suspended from trading pending the publication of a prospectus prepared in accordance with the Prospectus Regulation Rules of the FCA and approved by the FCA, or an announcement that the Acquisition is not proceeding.

Further announcements will be made in due course, as appropriate.

Stephen West, Executive Chairman, commented:

"I am delighted to announce that we have completed the very important step of signing the Sale and Purchase Agreement for the acquisition of Lynamid. We have commenced marketing to potential investors to fund the acquisition and the very exciting pre-clinical drug development programme of Lynamid, with very encouraging results, and we look forward to completing this Acquisition and re-listing our shares."

The teams at Roquefort Investments and Lynamid believe the Midkine global IP portfolio has significant unrealised value that can be unlocked through pre-clinical drug development utilising oligonucleotide drugs. Due to recent progress in oligonucleotide drug development (for example, mRNA used in Pfizer and Moderna COVID-19 vaccines) there is an opportunity to progress the pre-clinical drug development stage rapidly and at a significantly lower cost than historical traditional methods.

We look forward to updating the market further in due course."

INTRODUCTION

Background to and reasons for the Acquisition

The Company was formed to pursue opportunities to acquire medical biotechnology businesses that are early stage in the medical sector. The Company considers businesses that are in the "research" or "pre-clinical development" stages to be early stage. Since the Company's IPO on the standard list of the London Stock Exchange on 22 March 2021, the Company's initial focus has been on acquiring early stage businesses in the medical biotechnology sector including (but not limited to) drug and vaccine development, diagnostics, immuno-therapy and cell and gene therapies.

Lynamid is the exclusive licensee of 36 registered patents and one application covering composition of matter and method of use patents for Midkine inhibitors. Midkine is a novel therapeutic target that provides a platform for drug development to treat numerous diseases including severe inflammatory diseases (including COVID-19), autoimmune disorders and cancer.

After careful consideration by the Board, it was unanimously decided to proceed with the Acquisition. Upon success, the Board considers the Lynamid opportunity aligned with its investment strategy and to offer the best chance of providing Shareholders with an attractive total return achieved primarily through capital appreciation.

The key reasons for the decision to proceed with the Acquisition are as follows:

- Lynamid holds a licenced portfolio of patents for an exciting novel therapeutic target, Midkine, that provides a platform for drug development to treat numerous diseases;
- Lynamid has completed extensive research studies demonstrating that the blocking of Midkine promotes a positive response from cells when fighting various diseases including severe inflammatory diseases, autoimmune disorders and cancer;
- the research studies have also shown that Midkine is involved in various lung diseases and multi-organ failure, as well as impacting on a key molecule required for entry of SARS-CoV-2 virus into lung cells. Therefore, targeting Midkine may be beneficial for preventing SARS-CoV-2 infection and the devastating symptoms of acute and long COVID-19;
- the Company will be acquiring over 10 years of research and will benefit from approximately A$40 million of investment into Midkine research;
- Lynamid is now entering into the pre-clinical stage of antisense oligonucleotide drug development to block Midkine;
- due to recent progress in oligonucleotide drug development (for example, mRNA used in Pfizer and Moderna COVID-19 vaccines) there is an opportunity to progress the pre-clinical drug development stage faster and at a lower cost than small molecule drugs or therapeutic antibodies; and
- upon proof of efficacy during the pre-clinical stage, Midkine blocking drugs to treat SARS-CoV-2 infection and COVID-19 may be fast-tracked into clinical trials for accelerated approval by regulators.

History of Lynamid

Lynamid is a private company, incorporated and domiciled in Australia, which was originally formed in February 2016 to commercialise the intellectual property owned by its former parent company, Cellmid Limited ("Cellmid"), around the novel therapeutic target, Midkine. Midkine is an embryonic growth factor discovered by Professors Takashi Muramatsu and Kenji Kadomatsu at Nagoya University, Japan in 1988. The intellectual property associated with the discovery was acquired by Cell Signals Inc., a Japanese biotechnology company in 2001 and funded by venture capital investment until 2008. Cell Signals uncovered basic aspects of Midkine biology and developed antibodies targeting Midkine, which have become the subject of an extensive, global patent portfolio.

In 2008 Cellmid acquired all of the intellectual property pertaining to Midkine from Cell Signals Inc. for a consideration amount of A$3.5 million, including patents, know-how and methods for the detection of Midkine in blood and other tissues. Cellmid has since, through its own research programs and with collaborators, developed a large patent portfolio and knowledge base around Midkine, its inhibitors and its potential to be targeted for a number of therapeutic indications.

The composition of matter patents acquired from Cell Signals Inc., covered antibodies that bind to different regions of the Midkine protein and inhibit its action as well as antisense oligonucleotides that blocked Midkine expression. The method of use patents covered the use of these reagents in different disease settings including chronic inflammatory diseases, autoimmune disorders, vascular occlusive diseases and cancer.

Lynamid has an exclusive global licence to all Midkine related intellectual property owned by Cellmid pursuant to a licence agreement. The license has the term of patent life plus five years and cannot be terminated except for material breach.

After completing extensive scientific work with encouraging results during the research phase, Lynamid is now moving into the pre-clinical stage of drug development.

In April 2021 Lynamid was acquired by Provelmare Holding SA with the view to providing the interim funding required to continue with the Midkine drug development programme whilst a more suitable buyer with longer term funding was identified.

Strategy for Lynamid

During the research stage, Lynamid obtained extensive pre-clinical data sets and a licence to the relevant patents in relation to its Midkine antibodies. Lynamid is now moving into the pre-clinical stage of developing antisense oligonucleotide drugs to inhibit Midkine. The advantages of oligonucleotide-based drugs in clinical deployment include low cost and scalability of manufacture, well-defined safety profile and pharmacokinetics, as well as targeted biodistribution to specific organs with appropriate chemical modifications and delivery vehicles for nucleic acids. The oligonucleotide drugs are expected to be novel and form the basis of new patents, adding value to Lynamid's intellectual property portfolio.

Lynamid's preclinical antisense oligonucleotide programme is expected to deliver new, patented drugs, which will be further validated in preclinical models of cancer, autoimmune disorders, chronic inflammatory diseases, and SARS-CoV-2 infection, including acute symptoms of COVID-19 and long COVID. Relative to biologic drugs, such as antibodies, oligonucleotide drugs are expected to have a more rapid path to the clinic representing earlier potential value inflection for Lynamid.

Lynamid will initially focus on disease indications that allow accelerated entry into clinical trials, especially with the EUA/CTAP programs run by the EMA and FDA for COVID-19 treatments. In view of the multiple other disease settings that Midkine impacts on, the Board believes that there is considerable scope for adapting Midkine oligonucleotides for broad clinical application in areas of high unmet needs and major global markets.

Lynamid intends to develop its oligonucleotide, and potentially antibody, drugs through preclinical and early clinical development. It will consider licensing of these drugs in the various indications at either IND (investigational new drug) application or clinical proof of concept (post phase 2 clinical studies) stages with the objective of delivering value to shareholders.

KEY TERMS OF THE ACQUISITION

Pursuant to the Acquisition Agreement, the Company has conditionally agreed to acquire the entire issued share capital of Lynamid.

The consideration for the entire issued share capital will consist of: (i) payment of £500,000 in cash (subject to adjustment for working capital); (ii) the issue of the Initial Consideration Shares to the Seller; and (iii) contingent deferred consideration (if any is due) to be satisfied in the form of Deferred Consideration Shares, as follows:

- if prior to the fifth anniversary of Admission, the Company's market capitalisation exceeds £25,000,000 for a period of 5 or more consecutive trading days the Company shall issue to the Seller 5,000,000 Deferred Consideration Shares; and
- if prior to the fifth anniversary of Admission the Company's market capitalisation exceeds £50,000,000 for a period of 5 or more consecutive trading days the Company shall issue to the Seller (or its nominee) a further 5,000,000 Deferred Consideration Shares.

The Initial Consideration Shares to be issued pursuant to the Acquisition will be credited as fully paid and rank pari passu in all respects with the Existing Ordinary Shares in issue including the right to receive all future dividends or other distributions declared, made or paid after the date of issue. The Initial Consideration Shares (assuming the full number of 30,000,000 Placing Shares are subscribed) will represent approximately 6.9% of the Enlarged Issued Share Capital. The Consideration Shares (assuming the full number of 30,000,000 Placing Shares are subscribed and that no other new Ordinary Shares are allotted) will represent approximately 18.3% of the Enlarged Issued Share Capital.

The Acquisition Agreement may be terminated by the Company in certain customary limited circumstances, including where the Company becomes aware of a material breach of warranty or material breach of interim covenant prior to Admission. The agreement contains customary warranties and indemnities relating to Lynamid and its business and assets, given by the Seller in relation to general and operational warranties and a customary tax covenant in favour of the Company. Claims under the Acquisition Agreement are subject to certain financial, time and other limitations.

Conditions of the Acquisition

Completion of the Acquisition is conditional, inter alia, upon:

- approval by the FCA, and the publication, of a Prospectus relating to the issue of the Consideration and Placing Shares;
- the passing of the Resolutions at the General Meeting;
- the Initial Consideration Shares and the Placing Shares having been issued and allotted unconditionally subject only to their Admission;
- there having occurred in the period between the signing date and Completion no material breach of any of the Seller's interim covenants in the Acquisition Agreement, no material breach of warranties and no material adverse change in relation to Lynamid; and
- Admission.

If the conditions are not satisfied or waived (if capable of waiver) on or before the 28 February 2022 (or such later date as the Company and the Seller may agree), the Acquisition Agreement will terminate and cease to be of any effect save for certain customary surviving provisions.

Lock-in undertaking

Pursuant to the Acquisition Agreement, the Seller shall also enter into a lock-in agreement with the Company conditionally on Admission on standard terms. Under the lock-in agreement, the Seller will agree that it will not, without the consent of the Company, dispose of the legal or beneficial interest in the Initial Consideration Shares or grant a right or charge over such Shares for a period of 6 months from Admission in relation to all of the Consideration Shares and for a further period of 6 months in relation to 50% of the Consideration Shares.

PROPOSED PLACING

In conjunction with the Acquisition and subject to Admission, the Company proposes to issue up to 30,000,000 Placing Shares to existing and other institutional shareholders at the Placing Price of £0.10 per share.

Assuming all the Placing Shares are taken up, the Placing is expected to raise approximately £3,000,000 before expenses.

The proceeds of the Placing will be used to finance the cash component of the consideration for the Acquisition, for pre-clinical drug development and for working capital.

The Company has engaged Optiva to act as the Company's placing agent and adviser for the purposes of the Placing. The Placing will not be underwritten. The Placing will be conditional, inter alia, on:
